

Elena Morozova

Zest Leaders office manager

Universal challenge and response system

In ZL: since 2012.

Overall work record exceeds 10 years.

My first job was in Godiva. Since then I know how chocolate should taste.

Interpreting and translating experience: consecutive interpretation of speeches, lectures, seminars, different types of negotiations including those on technical matters – mechanics, electrics, electronics, shipbuilding and ship repair, construction, drugs and their precursors, security challenges, military technical collaboration etc. Sometimes simultaneous interpretation.

If you only knew what a computer of a submarine looks like! If you only saw how a plasma cutting machine cuts a 20 cm metal sheet (by the way, I can program it)! If you only knew how you can diagnose roll bearings' condition with a vibration sensor or prevent a fire in your place with just a screwdriver! Every day is an experience.

I've also translated several books.

Editorial experience: edited several books translated by other translators.

Logistics experience: organization of supplies from Germany, Switzerland, Israel, Italy, customs clearance (customs brokerage certificate), forwarding.

Education: Saint Petersburg State University, Department of Oriental Studies, M.A.

About myself: I was born in Minsk. Moved to Saint Petersburg in order to study which I did, having majored in the Persian language and literature, although I still vest interest in all the other languages, dead and alive. Philologist and culturologist. Love books, languages and cognition process. Passionate traveler, photographer, cyclist and reader.
